QSG CONFIRMS POSITIVE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN ESG FACTORS AND FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE USING ASSET4 DATA, QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS

Naperville, IL and Zug, Switzerland – November 10, 2009 – Quantitative Services Group LLC (QSG[®]), a leading provider of equity research, multi-factor models and trading analytics to top institutional investors, today announced that it has completed an extensive analysis of a comprehensive set of Environmental, Social and Corporate Governance (ESG) data provided by ASSET4. This analysis, which employed an evaluation framework considering more than 250 key performance indicators applied to 900 individual data points, confirmed the excess return generating value of ESG data. The study also proposed specific methodologies for integration into the traditional equity modeling process.

To conduct this analysis, QSG developed aggregate ESG scores by company and through extensive testing found that the top ranked firms significantly outperformed the equal weighted Russell 1000 Index over the test period. Furthermore, QSG noted performance improvements from the integration of ESG scores with the QSG Value Momentum[®] stock ranking model, confirming the value of combining the ESG signals with an existing stock selection process. The analysis further established that value can be created from using the signals as an ancillary screen to identify future performance leaders and avoid laggards.

“Our work with ASSET4 reveals that ESG signals can be used as a source of incremental alpha and need not be relegated to the domain of SRI criteria. I was pleasantly surprised by the scope and depth of the data,” said Tim Sargent, QSG Chief Executive Officer and President. “These value drivers extend well beyond those captured in traditional financial reporting, but are nevertheless fundamentally linked to shareholder returns. QSG is thrilled to offer our clients access to this data through our relationship with ASSET4.”

Through this partnership, joint QSG/ASSET4 clients can obtain ASSET4 data in a number of different ways, ranging from daily rankings of a set of 23 ESG related factors to full ASSET4 assetmasterProfessional[™] product platform access.

“We see our partnership with QSG as another indication of the growing importance of ESG information,” said Ted Yarnell, ASSET4 Vice President and General Manager Americas. “QSG is one of the first quantitative analysis firms to understand and incorporate ESG information into their processes, which should provide a true competitive benefit to their clients. We are excited about this partnership and look forward to continuing to demonstrate the positive relationship between ESG factors and financial performance.”
